

Being on the no-call list has been a godsend for our precious family time, especially around dinnertime, homework time, and family activities. Please do not make changes to the no-call list. In fact, please consider tightening restrictions for all unsolicited calls.

If I close an account, that should signify to the business that I don't want to do business with them. Period.

Thank you for your attention.